

I think I'm pretty tough but

I'm not

INVINCIBLE.

I tripped over a diving teammate during practice and hit my head on the boards.

My memory is foggy but I remember the doctor saying "You have a concussion!"

My headaches were really bad.

I couldn't read simple sentences or count to ten. I wore sunglasses and couldn't watch TV. And when my dogs barked I would scream because it hurt my ears so much.

It's been 9 months and I finally feel like myself again. I can read books and I'm even starting to skate!

Don't learn about concussion the hard way.

Know what to do, and keep your head in the game.
